

THE ST SIDETRACKER ADVANTAGE

SIDETRACKER MAN-UP ORDER PICKING MACHINES

When your requirement is to pick or bundle long loads at height using a strong simple and reliable machine, Sidetracker are the company to choose. We manufacture our machines to be robust, reliable and safe, to give the operators complete confidence. No electronics are used in order to cut down on breakdowns, thus avoiding operator nervousness. Options such as trade weighing systems can be specified, this enables a complete order to be assembled, avoiding double handling at ground level and speeding the whole operation up.

Cab design, twin, single, double, all specially designed for long load handling and order picking with ergonomic and safe design.

A full design service is available, by experienced and technically qualified staff, allied with site and application analysis, to enable us to provide the ideal design, whilst using standard mechanical parts. We can produce modernised versions of existing man-up machines.

Handling solutions utilising Sidetracker design department, can be found to a multitude of materials handling problems, that need careful consideration, matched by specialist design and manufacture.
